"Service" means any Crosser SaaS service or product, such as Crosser Cloud, including Crosser Control Center, or any other current or future offerings that are delivered as a cloud/web or hosted service.

"Software" means the executable versions of the software programs owned, such as the Crosser Node, distributed or licensed by Crosser included in Software (and any part of them) which are to be supplied to Customer and for which Customer is granted a limited license.

2. Service and Provisioning of Service

Crosser's Services are offered based on an assumption of 99.5 % average availability, based on an annual Service time of 24/365. The availability assumption does not cover downtime caused by planned maintenance windows, disturbance in availability caused by Customer or by force majeure events.

Without Crosser's prior written approval and subject to paying the applicable Service Fees, the Customer may solely use the Service for the Customer's and Customer's Affiliates own business and may not forward the Service or allow others to exercise the Service.

3. The Software and licensing of the Software

The standard End-User-License Agreement/Terms Acceptance Procedure do not apply to licenses resold/sublicensed by IFS. Instead the following terms shall apply. IFS may resell/sublicense Software licenses to Customers only to the terms and conditions below.

All Software licensed under the Agreement includes and requires a license granted by Crosser and requires the Customer to download and install the Software in Customer's premises within Customer's infrastructure. Subject to payment of the applicable fees, Customer is granted a limited, non-exclusive, right to use the Software.

The grant is based on an assumption of the Customer using the Software in an approved technical- and operational environment as specified at <https://support.crosser.io/portal/en/kb/articles/requirements>, and in accordance with the user- and technical manual and any other instructions provided by Crosser available here:

<https://support.crosser.io/portal/en/kb/articles/requirements>.

The features and limitations of each Software, and the types of results generated, are described in the Documentation. Crosser may at its sole discretion modify the features of Software from time to time without prior notice.

Without Crosser's prior written approval and subject to paying the applicable License Fees, Customer may solely use the Software for the Customer's and Customer's Affiliates own business and Customer Data and may not sublicense the Software or allow others to exercise the Software.

Customer understands and agrees that it shall only use the Software in a manner that complies with any and all applicable laws in the jurisdictions in which the Software is used. Usage shall be in accordance with applicable restrictions concerning privacy, intellectual property rights and other laws. Customer may not use the Software for any purpose other than as described herein or in the applicable product description or manual.

Customer/ understands and agrees to not intentionally (a) interfere with other customers' access to, or use of, software or Cloud Services, or with its security; (b) facilitate the attack or disruption of the Software, third party software or Cloud Services, including a denial of service attack, unauthorized access, penetration testing, crawling, or distribution of malware (including viruses, trojan horses, worms, time bombs, spyware, adware, and cancelbots); or (c) cause an unusual spike or increase in the use of the Software that negatively impacts the Software's, third party software or Cloud Services' operation. "Cloud Service" means Crosser's or third party's hosted software-as-a-service offering or other cloud-enabled feature.

It is acknowledged that Crosser operates a trust model where End-Customers are allowed, at its discretion, to expand their use and add more capacity of the Software beyond the actually licensed scope ("Overage"). The End-Customer is responsible to monthly report any such Overage to IFS and Crosser will also technically monitor the use of the Software by the End-Customer and record such Overage.

4. The use of Third-Party Apps and Products

The Products supports integrations and other connections to certain non-Crosser services. If a Customer chooses to use a non-Crosser service with the Service, in doing so, the Customer hereby grants to Crosser permission to interoperate with the non-Crosser service. Such acquisition and use of non-Crosser services is governed solely by the terms of the relationship between Customer and the provider of the non-Crosser services.

The Products may allow Customer to access or acquire software, services, websites, links, content, material, integrations, bots or applications from independent third parties (companies or people who aren't Crosser) (jointly "Third-Party Apps and Products").
